

12/09/2025 Ignite the Faith Prayer Team Quick recap

The team discussed plans for an upcoming event focused on youth-led revival and spiritual growth, with John outlining key responsibilities for volunteer recruitment, training, and resource coordination. The group reviewed worship arrangements, band participation, and logistics for the event, including food service, tent setup, and sound equipment. They concluded by scheduling a follow-up Zoom meeting for further coordination and discussing the importance of clear communication among team members.

Next steps

- Doug: Coordinate with Carl, Carol, Corey, Jedediah, Liam, and Kai to set up and lead sessions focused on recruiting volunteers, developing/training volunteers, and identifying/obtaining required resources and supplies for the prayer team.
- Doug: Set a date (suggested: next Tuesday) and organize a 2-hour training session for volunteers at the park, including prayer over the property, and confirm attendance with team members.
- Carl and Corey: Collaborate to create a checklist of key items, tools, and techniques for the prayer team training session, including outreach methods, tracks, and follow-up/discipleship processes.
- All adult and youth team members (Doug, Carl, Carol, Corey, Jedediah, Liam, Kai): Actively recruit and invite volunteers (including adults and youth) for the prayer team, and report back on progress at the next session.
- Doug: Contact churches (using Carl's list and others) to inform them about the event, offer their church as a discipleship resource, and coordinate follow-up for new believers.
- Doug and/or Corey: Reach out to contacts (e.g., The Garden, Dave) to request donations of Bibles for the event.
- Liam: Provide a scripture/verse to John for guiding the team's work at the event, within the next week.
- Doug: Set up (or have John set up) a recurring Zoom meeting for the team (proposed: same time next Tuesday), and send out the link to all relevant participants.
- Doug: Work with Mindy (with an I) and others to recruit additional youth (especially girls) as prayer volunteers.
- John: Set up Zoom meeting for next team session as requested by Doug.

- Doug: Review and finalize the list of resources and supplies needed for the event, including Bibles and outreach materials, and coordinate acquisition with the team.
- Doug: Ensure that the training session covers techniques for both evangelism and discipleship, and that all volunteers are prepared for their roles at the event.
- Doug: Coordinate with team to develop and document clear follow-up/discipleship processes for new believers, including tracking and connecting them with local churches.
- Doug: Confirm with team members \(Jedediah, Liam, Kai\) that they will attend the training session at the park.
- Doug: Communicate clearly before the next session what actions are expected \(e.g., each member to report on volunteer recruitment progress\).

Summary

Event Planning and Prayer Team Assignments

The team discussed plans for an upcoming event, with John outlining the next steps for the prayer team. He assigned Doug to lead the effort of recruiting staff and developing a training plan, while the entire prayer team was tasked with creating a list of resources and supplies. Kai confirmed he would read the event introduction and hand it over to John for the main presentation. The conversation ended with Carl sharing his weekend experiences at a tamale festival, which included camel rides and equestrian events.

Ignite the Faith Volunteer Planning

The team discussed the Ignite the Faith event, focusing on building a volunteer base and preparing spiritual gifts content. Kai led a prayer to begin the meeting, and John shared an overview of the event's mission to empower youth-led revival. The team reviewed the Great Commission as their guiding principle and discussed the content available on the Rainmaker Effect website. They noted that there are approximately 50 days left until the event, and they plan to focus on building a volunteer base, developing spiritual gifts content, and preparing for the event in the coming weeks.

Spiritual Event Planning and Volunteers

The team discussed plans for an upcoming event focused on ministering to three groups: the lost, the found but veering off path, and those already found who want to leverage their spiritual gifts. John outlined the need to train volunteers, secure resources and supplies, and emphasized that the majority of the work would be adult-led, with youth serving as staff. Doug agreed to handle the task of identifying and securing necessary resources, while John will focus on volunteer recruitment and training. Jedediah suggested his mother, Sandy, as a potential prayer volunteer, which John approved.

Event Planning: Evangelism and Discipleship

The team discussed plans for an upcoming event expecting 200-300 attendees, with a focus on both evangelism and discipleship. John assigned Doug to coordinate training sessions for volunteers, with Carl and Corey leading prayer efforts and tracking follow-up with new believers. The group agreed to hold a 2-hour training session at the park, with Mindy suggesting outdoor picnic tables for the training. The team discussed the importance of both evangelism and discipleship, with Carl emphasizing that both are integral parts of the same process. John clarified that discipleship would occur post-event through connecting new believers with local churches for further training.

Park Event Planning and Prayer

The team discussed plans for an upcoming two-hour event at the park, with John confirming that Jed, Kai, Liam, and Doug would be involved in organizing and executing the event. The group then engaged in a prayer session led by several team members, expressing gratitude and seeking guidance for the event. After the prayers, John provided an update on worship arrangements, noting that bands were no longer involved and that the youth band would perform. He also mentioned that Samuel was currently unavailable due to taking a break from his phone, and arrangements would be made for a future hospitality and connection session.

Event Planning and Band Coordination

John discussed the progress of an event, including the addition of lights and set lists for the adult bands. He mentioned visiting the worship band at Mission Hills but was unsure about their participation due to confusion over which band would be performing. John praised Malachi's coordination of musicians and his recent involvement in the event planning. They also discussed the logistics of the event, including the use of a tent and the need for permits, which John clarified was not necessary for their setup. John and Doug briefly touched on personal updates, including Doug's recent move and John's visit to Chick-fil-A with Malachi and his family.

Team Communication and Resource Planning

John and Doug discussed the need for Carl and other team members' contact information, with John offering to provide it if needed. They addressed the importance of clear communication for the team's goals. Doug mentioned the need to organize resources, including Bibles, and John suggested contacting the garden for donations. They also discussed the formation of a prayer team, with adults taking the lead in contacting potential volunteers. John offered to set up a Zoom session for Doug to run a review meeting, potentially next Tuesday, before Doug's upcoming trip to Idaho.

Event Planning and Coordination Meeting

The team discussed plans for an upcoming event, focusing on logistics like food service, tent setup, and sound equipment. They agreed to contact local churches to serve as discipleship resources, with John suggesting a direct approach rather than mass communication. The group also reviewed plans for the worship band, including song selection and leadership roles, with John planning to involve his daughter as a lead singer. Finally, they decided to set up a Zoom meeting for further coordination, scheduling it for 7-8:45 PM.
